

Our multiple crises need better responses. How bad do things have to get before we look beyond impotent reaction? How many losses will we accept before we act responsibly? What are the real root causes?

The Resource Based Economy, entirely without money, trade, currency or barter immediately removes the primary driver of our societal dysfunction. The desperate need for money.

A Money Free New Zealand, where everything is voluntary and free, offers a viable alternative to our current dystopian trajectory. Is it worth a look? Beyond accepting more of the same? Surely we're capable of better. Are the other candidates offering anything actually different?

At www.moneyfreeparty.org.nz we are advocating for real time, achievable, practical, 21st century solutions to today's ever growing list of problems. Solutions with integrity. We owe it to future generations to look outside the box. Win-win, or lose-lose? The choice is yours.
